What is Eden Eternal?

Eden Eternal, also known as Finding Neverland Online (FNO), is a MMORPG developed by X-LEGEND ENTERTAINMENT. It was released in Taiwan in October 2010 and was released in NA under Aeria Games in June 2011. Sometime after, Gamigo bought Aeria Games. Under the "care" of Gamigo in NA/EU, it was later shut down in April 2021. Now, X-LEGEND will be self-publishing the game in Q2 2023. To some, this was a free version of FFXIV because of the ability to play all the classes on one character. Plenty of dungeons and raids with challenging boss mechanics.

You can partake in PvP activities but do keep in mind that PvP on Eden Eternal is available at specific timeframes. Arena PvP wasn't available from 1am to 11am Eastern, Territory Wars was available at 9pm Eastern (on Saturdays & Sundays only it's 1:30pm Eastern & 9pm Eastern), GvG was open at 3pm Eastern, and Elysian Island (instanced open world PvP) was open at 6pm to 8pm Eastern. The times are not very friendly towards those who work.

Combat system?

The combat is tab-target. In terms of GCD, it is a lot like WoW's. Every instant ability is on the same cooldown except for abilities with seconds on them.

Monetization?

In AeriaGames' version, we had the Item Mall, Tiered Spender, and Web Mall. The Tiered Spender rewarded the big spenders/credit card warriors greatly by providing them items that would speed up their progression immensely. The Web Mall sold loot boxes for rare mounts, battle mounts, costumes, and pets.

P2W?

Just to throw this out first, this game is absolutely P2W. If you are used to Black Desert enhancement system, then this is nearly on the same level. You will get to the point in your armor and weapon fortification (enhancement) that you will need Safety Stones (kind of like Cron Stones) to increase chance & prevent the fortification downgrade. Instead of having high enhancement numbers to guarantee success like BDO, there are some Safety Stones boost enhancement success percentage that you can only get from playing the Crystal Altar (earn or buy crystals from cash shop to play the in-game lottery table) or Tiered Spender (i.e. AeriaGames's system of spend this much and get x,y,z each bracket)

This also includes:

- Gold tier costumes (outfits, back accessory, hats/masks, weapons) have a higher advantage over blue/green/white costumes.
- Gold tier riding mounts also have a higher speed advantage over blue/green/white mounts.
- Battle mounts have a massive advantage as they allow you to fight while riding on a mount.
    - These were only obtained through Crystal Altar or Tiered Spender or from other players.
- Gold tier pets also have a higher advantage when it comes to passive buffs (for your character) and also damage from the pet.
    - Pets are heavily used in arenas (i.e. 3v3s) that allow for them. They do insane damage if they are leveled and geared enough as you can equip them with accessories.
- Blue tier stat stones have a higher advantage over the quest-given stat stones.
    - These were obtainable through Crystal Altar, Tiered Spender, or from other players.

Crafting-wise, you may have to spend to get Corona's Heartflames (increases crafting success) as higher level crafting can have a chance to not craft.

If you can't swipe, you can still be as competitive as the swipers. You will have to play a ton to make enough gold to fund your gear. Join a guild for Territory War money. I recommend playing Bard or Engineer for early game money-making purposes.

Changes to Eden Eternal

From what is gathered so far:

【Initial Progress Adjustment】
As a game that has been launched over 10 years, we hope that those who come back to play can progress through the early game as quickly as possible. Therefore, we have streamlined the time required for early quests; such as dialogues, requirements, processes, etc.

【Balancing of Classes】
As previously announced, we will not enable the Mimic class in the Global Version, and the balancing of other classes in the early game is not significant. The most significant changes in balancing will mostly affect classes in the later stages of the game (such as Sage, Luminary). As the game updates in the future, players will experience these rebalanced classes. If there is further adjustment information, we will also release it to the players.

Mimic (killed class diversity in the Aeria version) is removed in the relaunch. They plan to rebalance various classes such as Sage and Luminary. We will not get to experience these changes until we get to the level cap of when those classes are available.

【Adjustment of Healing Effects】
We plan to adjust healing effects/abilities in order to encourage players to play Healing (Blue) Classes. However, there is no final decision yet. If there is further information, we will inform the players in future special reports.

Just as it says, they intend on improving the Healing classes. Cleric and Bard are often played while Shaman and Sage are underplayed.

【Battlefield Adjustments】
Players will no longer be able to form guilds in order to be placed on the opposite side of Territory Wars, and the "Smoke Bomb" item will be disabled in the Battlefield. These two adjustments are confirmed, and if there are any other changes, we will provide further information.

People mercing for guilds used to drop and make a guild to try to get on the same side. Some people also did this to be on the winning side for War Chests. With this change in place, it is assumed that guilds aiming to get territories will have to invite mercs into their own guild now to ensure territory victory.

【Character Appearance Updates】
We will optimize the textures of Male and Female Human and Halfkins, including hairstyles and facial features. We will also expand the number of face, hair, skin, and eye colors to provide players with more diversity in character customization

More options for Humans and Halfkins. The animals got screwed out of more customization.

【Game Optimization】
In the newsletter, they've mentioned optimization. They did not define what they did to improve the game. We may find more information in the coming weeks.

When is it coming out? Are there any release dates?

With the recent pre-registration event, it is now speculated that the game will release at the end of April or early May. As one may know, pre-registration events for MMOs/mobile games tend to last one month.

Server location? What's the deal with the servers?

According to X-Legend:
We plan to open 3 servers, each with a suggested language system name for Chinese, English, and Japanese players to choose from. Each server will correspond to its respective time zone, and detailed information on the time zones will be announced later. We recommend that players choose a server closer to their location to ensure a better connection quality, but players are free to choose any server they prefer. However, please note that choosing a server that is far away may result in higher latency.

Why is there so little info about the game?

When it comes to information for this game, it's very scarce because many of the game's veterans prefer to keep information to themselves.

Even if you do try to find information, there is some information on the Eden Eternal wiki but it won't have a specific guide nor enough information for you to follow. While some YouTube videos are outdated, some are still relevant for dungeons/raids.

Can I play this right now to learn the game before release?

By illegal means, yes. Google is your friend for this.
By legal means, you will have to wait until the re-launch.

Recommended Races

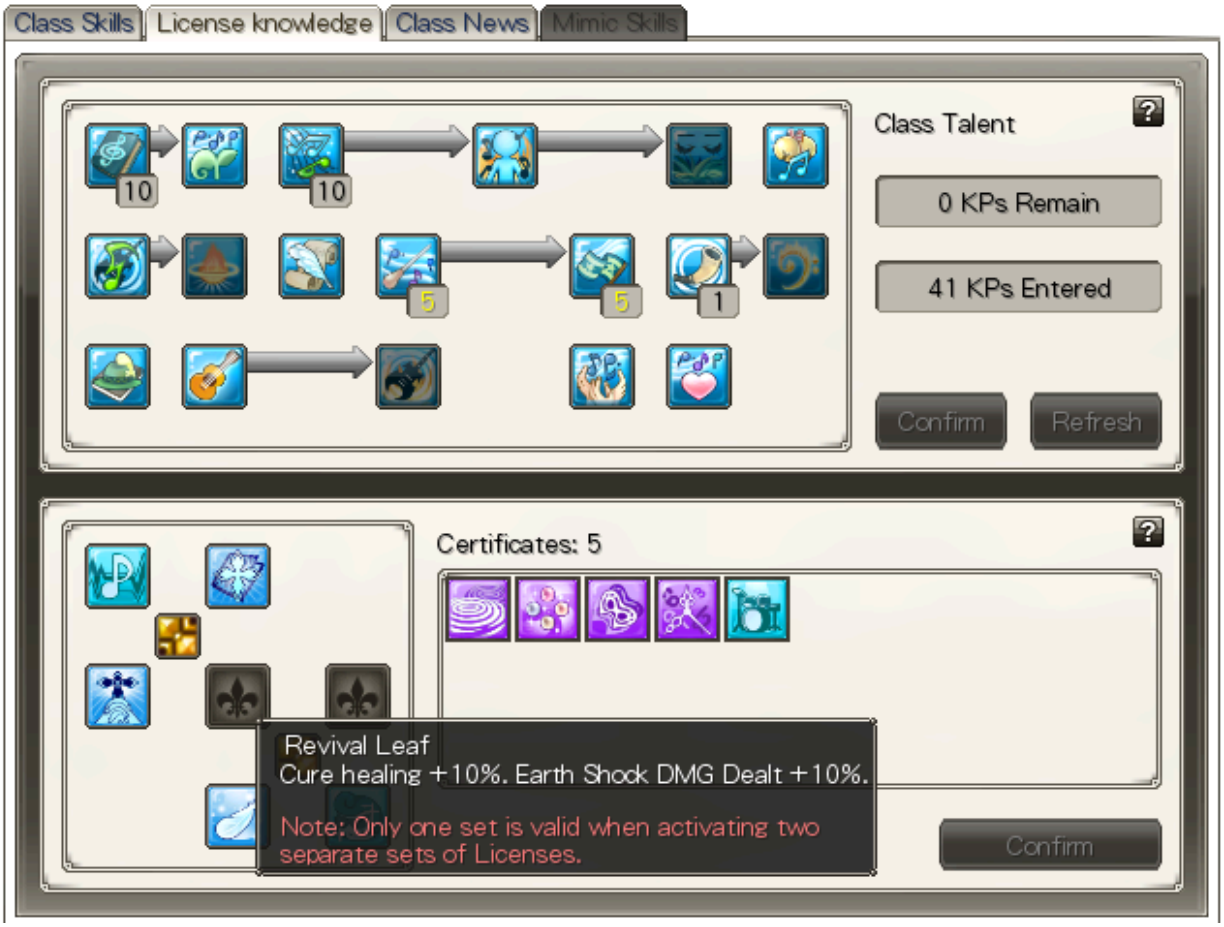

- Human
    - All-arounder, decent passives, and good racial skills (i.e. Strategic Retreat for Blue Classes)
- Zumi
    - They are very good for tank classes. Can be good as a mage. Kind of broken OP Yellow Class Racial (i.e. Mechanical Shield which is a Heal over Time, 5% chance to be canceled if attacked), rest is fine.
- Halfkin

Class Info

Starting Classes

- Warrior
- Thief
- Hunter
- Cleric
- Magician
- Luminary

You can play all the classes in this game with one character. Beyond the starting classes, you can become a Knight, Templar, Dragon Knight (Dragoon), Martial Artist, Blade Dancer, Samurai, Engineer (Ironman), Ranger, Inquisitor (Gunblade), Bard, Shaman, Sage, Illusionist, and Warlock. Most classes will require you to level a class within or outside the class tree to unlock it. As the game progresses, you can unlock awakening sub-classes for all these classes.

Regular skills carry to any class within that tree. Class skills are only specific to the class.
For example, Regular Skills from Cleric will carry over to Bard/Shaman/Sage while Cleric Class Skills will not carry to Bard.

There is a benefit to leveling all the classes as they will provide extra stats such as P-ATK/M-ATK damage increase, max HP, G-Healing/P-Healing, etc. You can find more information on this by checking the Class Ability Bonus tab.

Certain races excel in some classes due to their racial abilities and passives.

Examples:

- Anuran Bard can play their songs 2 seconds longer than other races and can cast a healing aura around them as their racial ability.
- Zumi Templar deals more damage with a 1H Mace and possesses a HP regen shield as their racial ability.
- Human Clerics take less M-DMG (magic damage) and can break combat status (very useful in PvP and PvE) via their racial ability to revive their allies.
- Human Warriors perform better with 2H Axe versus other races using different weapons.

Recommended Classes (PvE)

- AoE Caster DPS
    - Magician
- Single Target Caster DPS
    - Illusionist (you come with a mana battery, cast speed buff, and you have a summonable minion, their damage is insanely high if paired with another triple hit necklace)
- Ranged DPS
    - Engineer (if you like being able to kite and DPS, absolutely recommended to have one leveled to do and sell runs)
    - Hunter (great for solo'ing since you have a pet)
- Healer
    - Bard (same as above, kite and DPS, as well as personal buffs/heals)
    - Cleric (easy to gear up, great AoE damage)
- Physical DPS
    - Blade Dancer (also good at AOE'ing and solo)
    - Samurai (in the right hands, can be deadly)
    - Martial Artist

PvE-wise, any class (even if they are not listed above) is easy to get into.

There are dungeons and trials that you can undertake with your friends or guild members.

- Dungeons have two modes: Solo (2 entries) & Party (10 entries, up to 5 players).
    - Entries reset daily.
- Trials (raids) can be done with 5, 8, or 10 players with 3 entries.
    - Entries reset daily.
    - One of the trials in the game. (Credit to LadyTrickz)
- There exists a 25 man raid. This exists when we reach post-Level 75 cap content.
    - 25 Man Raid video (Credit to LadyTrickz)
    - From 25 man raid, you can get a dragon mount. It had a very low drop rate.

Also, post-75 content, there are two open-world dungeons (Devastation Dimension) that players will frequent for later level grinding (grind mobs to level from 75 to 85). From 85 to 100, players will grind in the second open-world dungeon called “The Battle of Time and Space” (BTS for short).

In terms of loot, dungeons and trials drop the usual loot (gear, weapons, rare drops) and trophies.
Trophies are similar to trinkets from WoW. They have unique stats and passive abilities to enhance your character or damage.

Outside of dungeons and trials, there is achievement hunting which has its own rewards via the Rankings. You can earn Eden Crystals, Corona Heartflame, and specific Safety Stones if you are in the top 10 while 11-20 get Eden Crystals.

Additional Trial Info

Just to clarify for those interested in how many trials there are for the endgame:
Level 50 - 2 5-mans & 2 8-mans
Level 55 - 2 5-mans & 2 8-mans
Level 60 - 2 5-mans & 3 8-mans
Level 65 - 2 5-mans & 2 8-mans
Level 70 - 2 8-mans & 2 10-mans
Level 70-S - 6 5-mans & 7 8-mans
Level 75 - 2 8-mans & 2 10-mans
Level 80 - 4 10-mans
Level 85 - 2 5-mans
Level 100 - 2 5-mans & 2 10-mans

For more information regarding what each dungeon/trial drops, please refer to this website: My Eden Eternal (Credit: VampiricDemise)

There are world bosses as well. Like dungeon bosses, they come with a mechanic or two to deal with. Every time you slay a world boss, your quote that you set up in Character Info will be broadcasted to the entire server. Killing world bosses is required for achievement hunting for the rankings.

Guilds

You can have a guild. Initially, there is a member cap of 50. As you level up the guild, you can have more than 50 in your guild. Guilds can also own a town and can tax players from using their crafting stations. You will need 50 gold to create a guild.

Note: Your guild must be Level 4 in order to gain points in Territory War.

Level 1 - 50 members
Level 2 - 75 members
Level 3 - 100 members

Level 4 - 125 members
Level 5 - 150 members
Level 6 - 175 members
Level 7 - 200 members
Level 8 - 225 members
Level 9 - 250 members
Level 10 - 275 members
Level 11 - 300 members
Level 12 - 350 members

For more information about guilds and guild towns, refer to this page.

Level Cap

The level cap is both Character Level 100 & Class Level 100. It has been the same level cap in Taiwan for several years now.

It is likely that we may either start Level 50 or 60 at release. There was a source that said that we will begin at Level 60. The website also points out Level 55~57 areas, hinting that we will begin at Level 60.

Couple System

As the title states, you can couple with another player in this game and receive buffs. All of these buffs are beneficial in both PvE and PvP. You can also get an ability to teleport to your couple. When you are coupled, you both get a 10% EXP & CP bonus if you are near each other. There are tasks that you can do each day to gain Luv Coins. Luv Coins are needed to buy items from the Love NPC.

This guide details the couple system.

Arcane Box

It is a very powerful system that allows you to refine certain items in the game. This guide goes into detail on what the Arcane Box does.

Path of Destiny

It's a board game that you can do each day for buffs, random stuff, and EXP + CP. You get mobility points by defeating enough mobs to gain a dice roll.

Player Housing

You can own a “home” through the Innkeeper NPC in Aven for a weekly rent fee. If your guild owns a town, only homes in guild towns are rent-free. From there, you can decorate your home with furniture you’ve obtained. There are 4 point systems in housing: Comfort, Luxury, Popularity, and Rarity. With enough Comfort/Luxury/Rarity, you’ll be able to host better banquets.

Banquets provide buffs but the buffs do not go out instantly until there are at least 3 people in the home. They last an entire hour. People would host public parties to boost their Popularity ranking.

For more information on player housing, please refer to this guide.

Ranking System

For more information on the ranking system and the calculations, please refer to this guide.

Achievements

Are you an overachiever? By doing tasks like those listed below, you can earn passive stats for your character, passive weapon stats, and free mounts.

Tips for the Game:

PvE Tips

- Choose a race that fits your objectives for the game.
- Join a guild. Whether you PvP or not, you want to reap the bonuses for being in one.
- You should do the books (buy from General Merchants) for every leveling zone as they will be required for Awaken Armor and Weapon quests.
- You should keep all materials (i.e. Thoughts, Wills, Intents, Energies) you get for Aven Fame. Like the previous bullet, you will need it for Awaken Armor & Weapon quests.
- Earn regional fame via quests in the leveling zone to buy accessories/trophies. Some of them are BiS.
- Get into crafting as some of the crafted accessories/gear sets are also great for PvE/PvP.
- If you have friends/guild, run the party versions of the dungeons for EXP.
- If you are solo, do rep quests in your zone / pick up guild quests to do with rep quests for EXP. Try to do your solo runs for the dungeon closest to your level each day.

PvP Tips

- Practice shield-swapping to defend yourself from players. You can put a shield on your hotbar. Make sure your primary weapon is on the hotbar when you want to swap back.
- Animation cancel and slidecast your abilities.
- Weapon-swapping is a core mechanic to EE PvP. Some weapons proc passive buffs whenever you cast or jump around.
- Take advantage of your racial skills.

- Always have a Bard in your party. Bards provide buffs and anti-sleep against Illusionists.
- Always have an Illusionist in your party. Illusionists provide mana regen and attack/cast speed buffs. They can also knockdown & sleep enemies (12s without passive buff, 14s with passive buff).
- Always have a Sage in your party. Sages provide buffs and anti-fear. (This class is not available until we get to Level 70+ content)

PvP

There are several game modes for PvP such as Territory Wars, Guild Elimination (GvG), Elysian Island (open world PvP map), 1v1 Class Arena, 3v3 Arena, Monster Battle Arena (3v3 as boss monsters from dungeons), and 10v10 Arena.

Unlike in other MMOs where you can hop into PvP at any time, all arenas are only open at specific time frames throughout the day.

Through PvP, you can earn Honor Stars which can be used to buy PvP armor/weapon blueprints from the Arena vendor. You will need Honor Stars for Awaken Armor & Weapon quests.

Recommended Classes & Races (PvP)

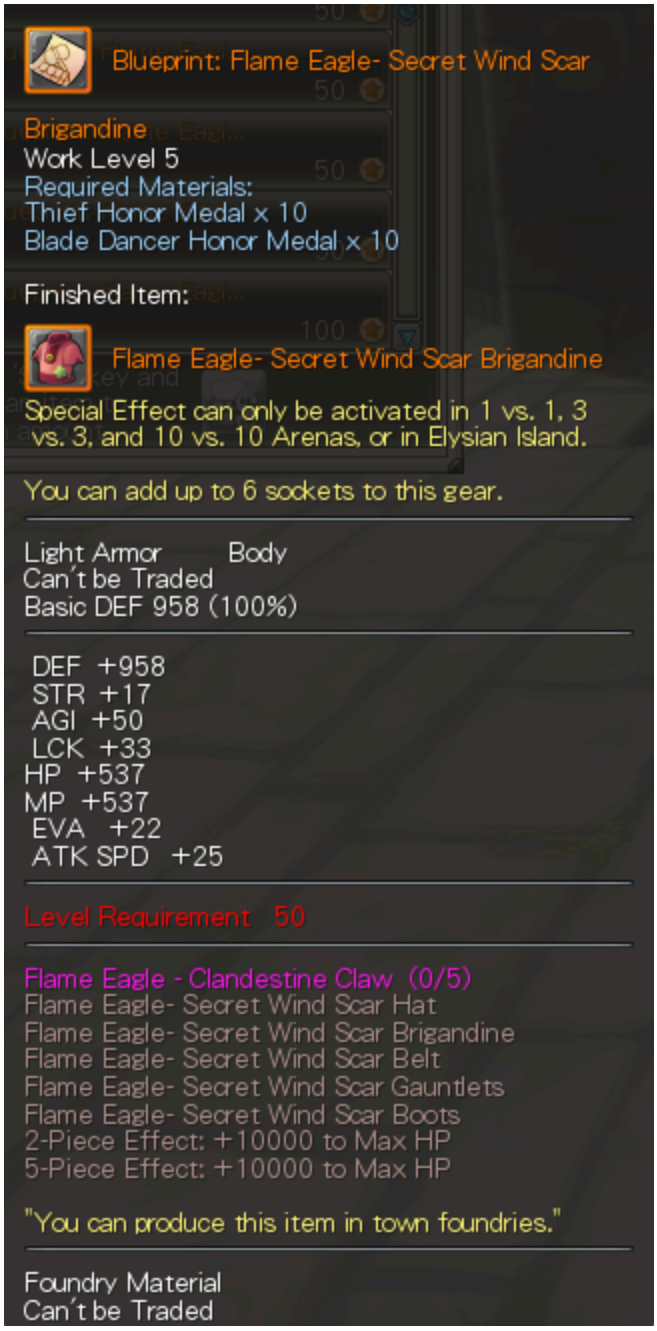

It will depend on what is needed for GvGs and TWs. This is more for your guild to decide on. Hence, this part can be very “gatekept” by most PvP-oriented guilds.

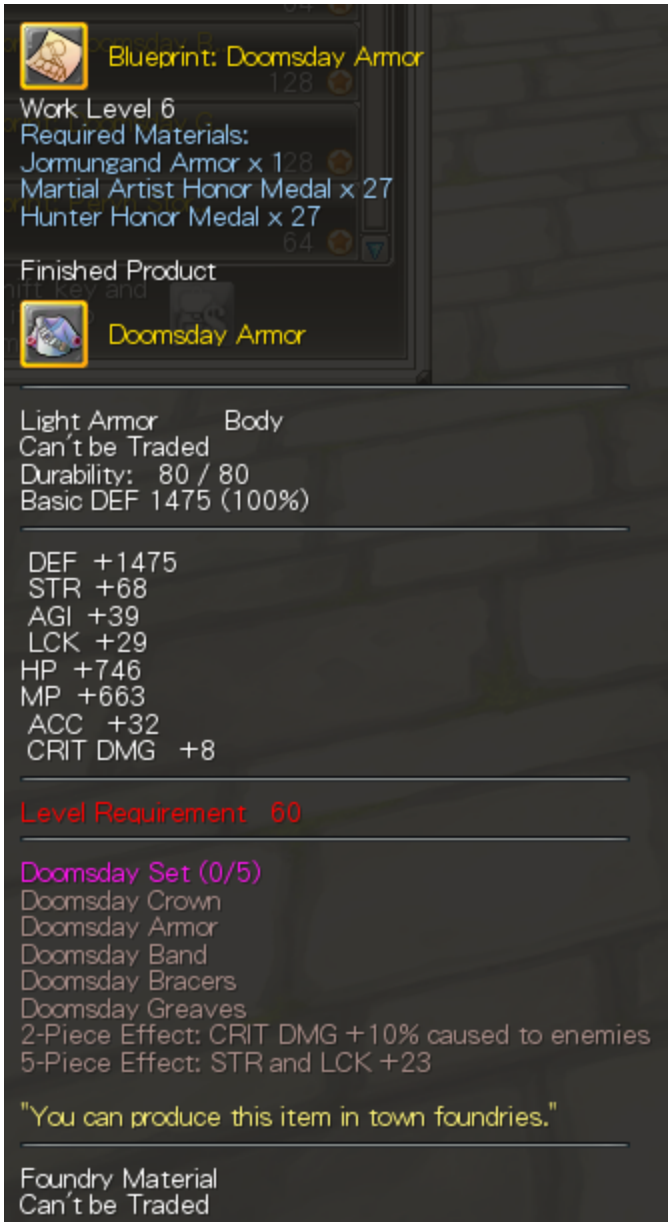

Gearing for PvP

Since it will be a fresh server, you won’t be able to swipe for your gear right off the bat. The amount of time it takes to gear up will be dependent on how quick the guilds level up their towns for you/crafter to make the gear. It will also be dependent on the merchants as well. Until then, you need to do PvE (dungeons & trials) to get some of the best gear for your class(es).

Alternatively, you could PvP to earn Honor Stars to buy the PvP accessories, armors, and weapons. Keep in mind that certain armor sets’ effects only apply to the arenas. You also cannot buy the blueprints from other players.

Examples:

Brigandine

Territory Wars

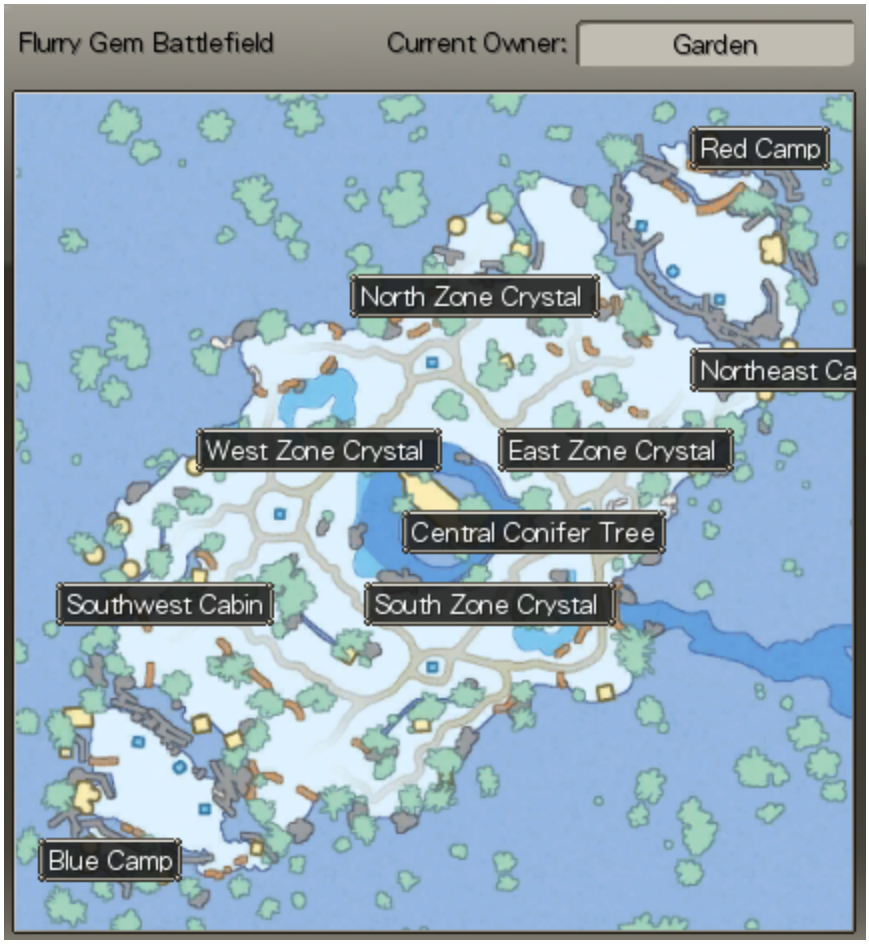

In Territory War, the objective is to claim the crystals and kill players to earn points. If you ever die in the battlefield, you can respawn and come right back into the battle. At random, your guild will be fighting with and against other guilds to claim the territory.

The guild with the most points wins the territory. They earn War Chests and more War Chests based on their performance (kills). A guild can own only three territories a week. They can earn gold (around 200g ~ 300g) as well. If they already have three, it goes to the next guild with the most points.

Starkgem Battlefield (above) has no special map mechanics.

PvP Video:
Starkgem Battlefield (Level 60 Cap)

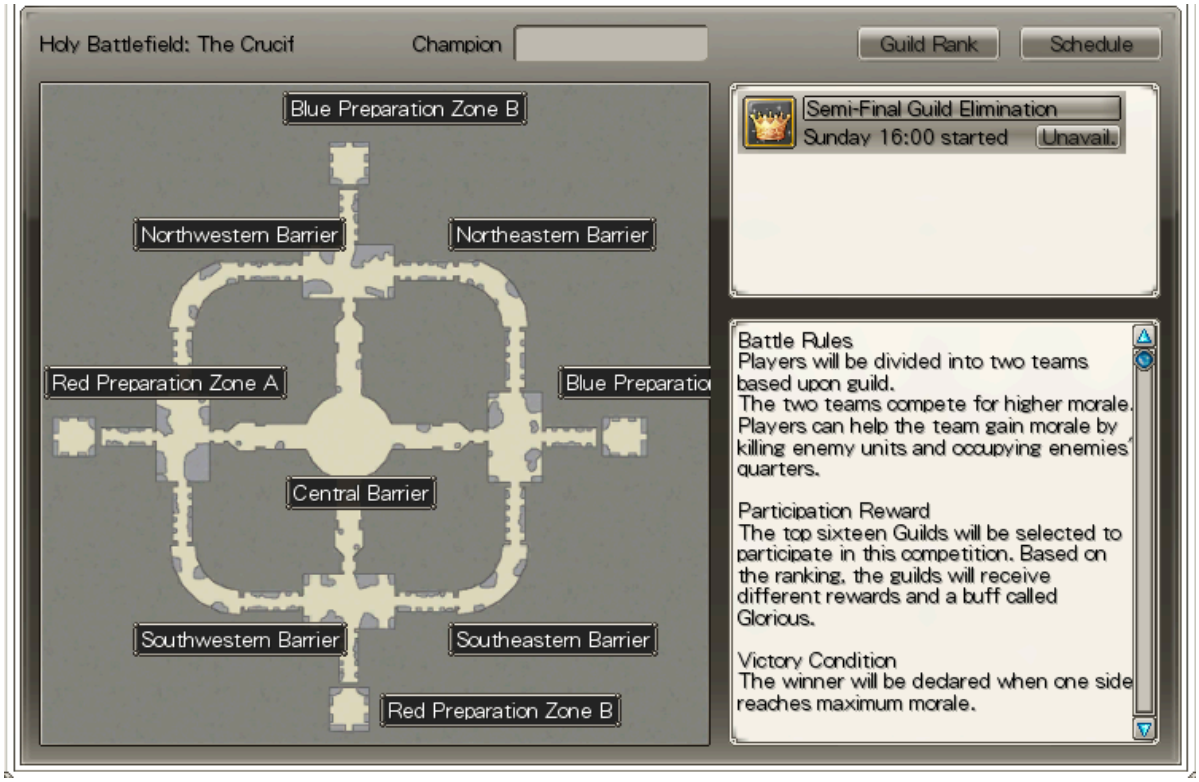

Flurry Gem Battlefield has a special mechanic (i.e. totem) that allows a player to transform into a Yeti that can single & AOE one-shot. You become tanky but can be killed by other players. It can turn the battle around greatly if you do not know the totem spawn times and totem spawn spots.

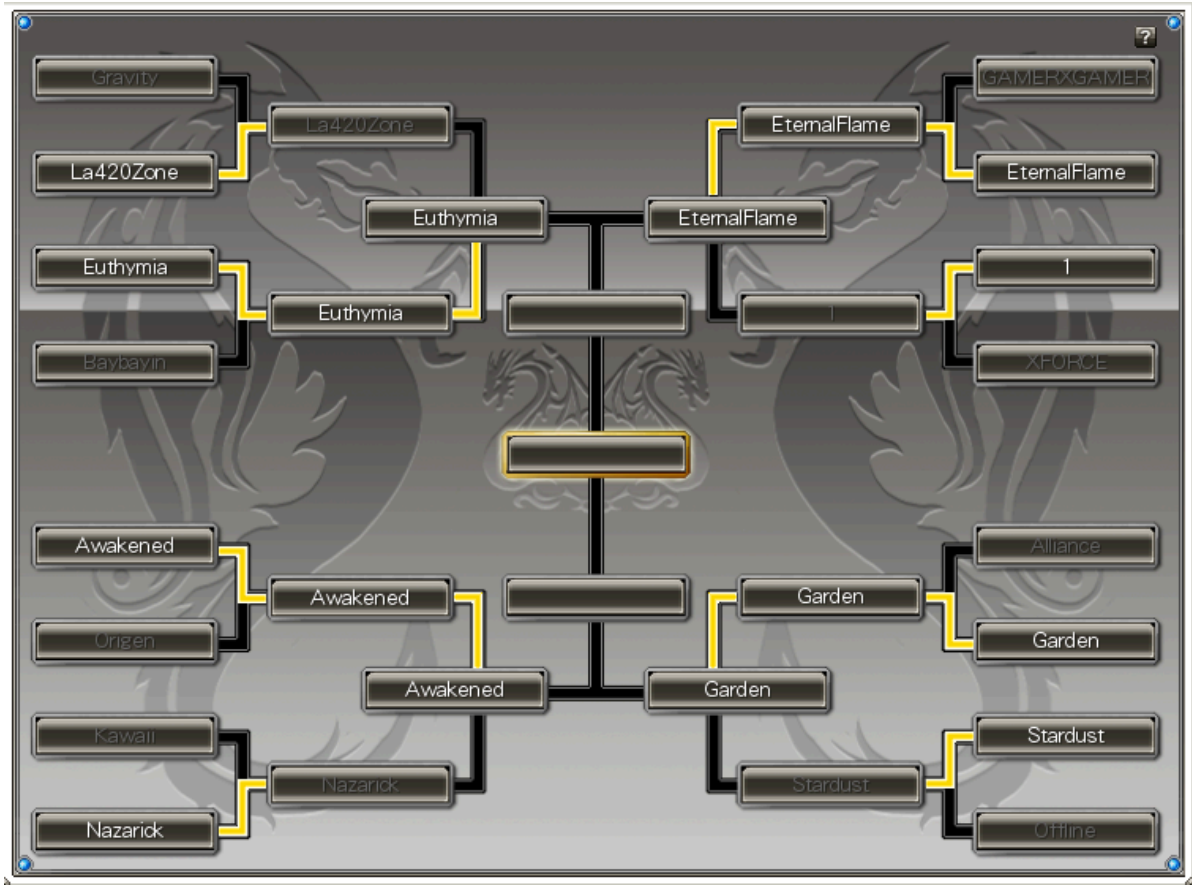

Crystal Island Battlefield has a special mechanic. If you kill the PvE boss at the center, it will spawn a lunar whale that can one-shot anyone and can destroy a claimed crystal. If a claimed crystal is destroyed, it can be retaken by other guilds. Players can lure the whales away by aggroing them. Players can also reset the center PvE boss to prevent whales from spawning.

Please note that the times for territory wars will be different in the relaunch of the game.

Guild Elimination, GvG for short, is done in a tournament bracket format. Eight guilds that have accumulated the highest guild fame at the end of the week are qualified into the GvG pool. On Saturday and Sunday, guilds will go up against each other to move onto the next bracket. The winning guild gets a golden crown above their heads while the losing guild in the final bracket gets a silver crown. And also, the losing guild before silver crown gets a bronze crown.

In Guild Elimination, the objective is similar to Territory War. You claim crystals and also kill players to increase points. There are PvE mobs that you must kill too. If PvE mobs destroy a claimed crystal, then it will cause the claimed crystal to be reclaimable. Players also can assign themselves to be part of a Bomb Squad (literally you can get bombs that one shot people). Should the timer run out, the guild with the most points is declared the winner. At the end of the battle, you will be able to see a leaderboard of kill counts done in that match.

Please note that the times for guild elimination will be different in the relaunch of the game.

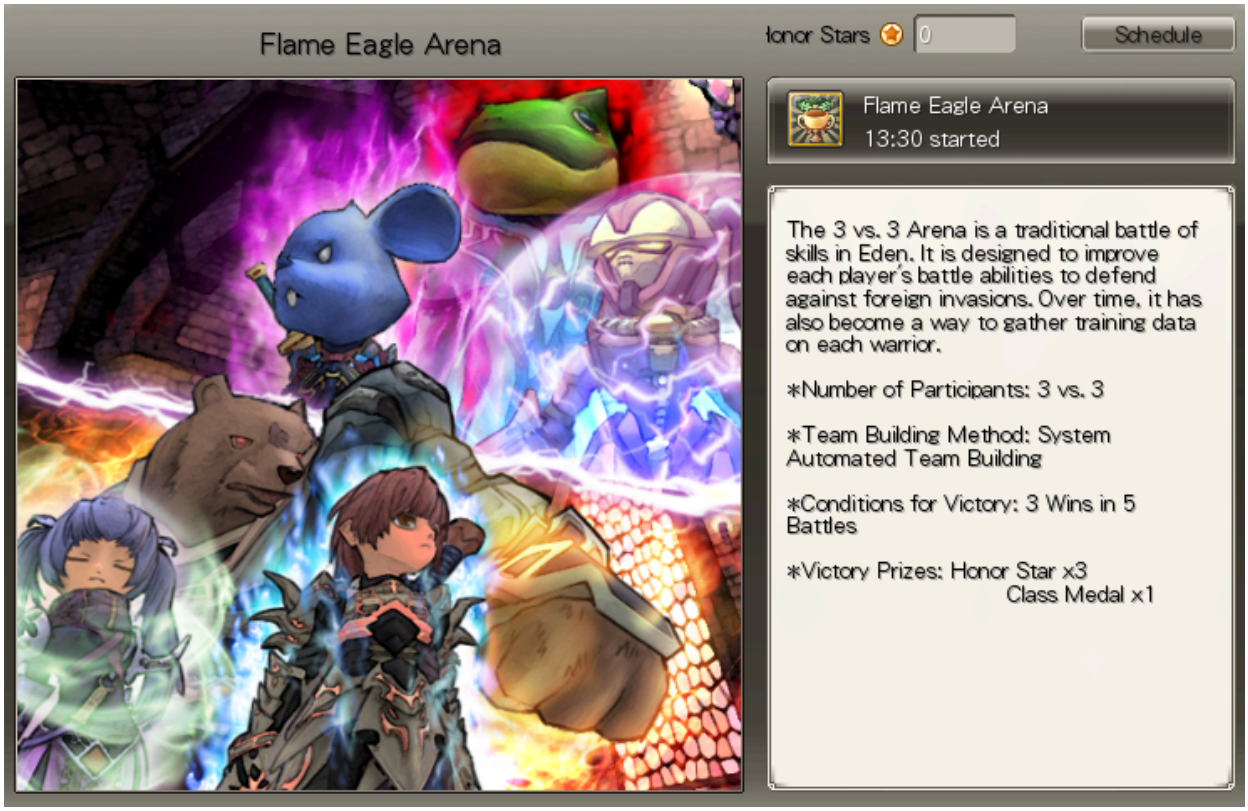

Arenas

Note: All of the arenas have rankings. They all reset every month.

1v1 Class Arena

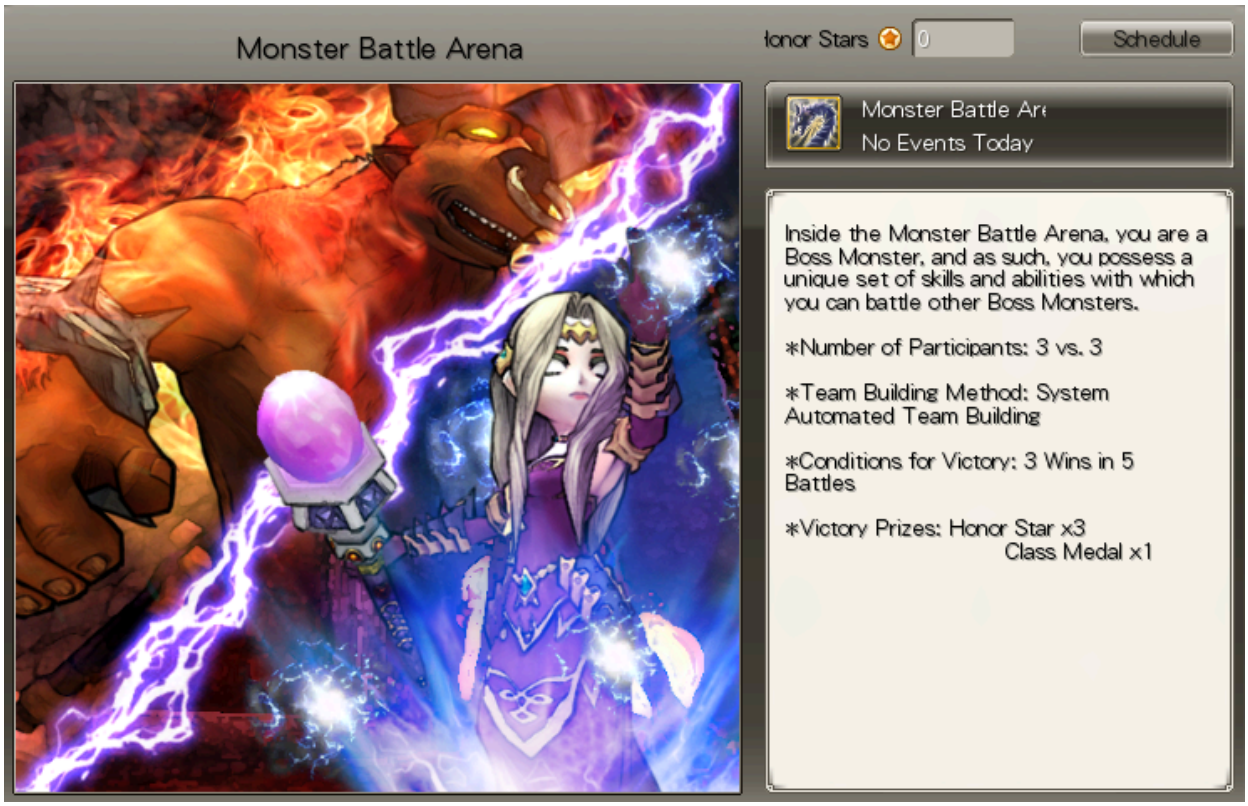

3v3 Arena

Flame Eagle Arena (3v3) has level brackets and rankings for it: 30-39, 40-49, 50-59, 60-69, 70-79. Most often, you will run into arena alts doing it for the rankings to get Honor Star bundles. If you can maintain your rank for a month, you will get rewarded if you are in the Top 20.
